

Delaware State News

The Downstate Daily

Thursday, December 1, 2005

New law office opens in Milford

MILFORD — The Law Offices of Doroshow, Pasquale, Krawitz & Bhaya has announced the opening of its Milford office on U.S. 113 and Lakeview Drive.

Joining Eric Doroshow in the office will be Tommie Little, a former state representative who served two terms from 1968 to 1972. The firm's areas of practice will be worker's compensation, personal injury and Social Security.

Mr. Doroshow opened his first office in Wilmington in 1978 with one secretary and one lawyer. Since that time, the Law

Offices of Doroshow, Pasquale, Krawitz & Bhaya has become one of the fastest-growing law firms in the state, with the Milford office being the firm's sixth.

Mr. Doroshow is the past president of the Delaware Trial Lawyers Association. He serves as the parliamentarian for the Delaware Democratic Party.